A 4-week class, concerning all things landscape. We will learn how to create spacial relationships, use perspective, understand light conditions and color harmony, review the work of master landscape painters, study brushwork, texture and mixing color.

We will be painting from life outside (the weather should be nice) or paint in the studio from photo reference in case of rain. Each class will have a short theory discussion in the beginning and a review for the students that want it at the end of class.
